PROFILE COACH JEFF KLOETZER

Caldwell High's wrestling coach reaches milestone, Cougars favored at district

Jeff Kloetzer earned his 50th and 51st victories last week as the Cougars finished their regular conference season undefeated. In only his third year as head coach, Kloetzer is 51-6 overall. In that time span, his teams have finished fifth and third at state. Kloetzer has also coached five Caldwell athletes to state titles.

The Cougars have a solid team to pursue their second straight district title on Friday and Saturday at Borah High. Kloetzer's son Colby and Martin Meza (pictured at right), have both won state wrestling titles and are hoping to add to their medal stash in the coming weeks.

THE MUSIC MAN

More than a hundred Caldwell High students and students from Jefferson and Syringa middle schools are working hard every day after school to prepare for their musical performance of the "Music Man." Choir director and production director David Burton said the show is going to be fabulous. The kids are practicing like professionals. "These kids are really, really good. I am so impressed."

Rehearsals are nightly for the singers, musicians and actors. Many others — including help from parents — are busy creating costumes and backdrops for scenes. Support their efforts and see performances.
