

For purposes of the First Amendment right to free speech, this school district is operated as a closed forum. Employees and students may only distribute written flyers, brochures, books, or other publications on school property that are directly related to the approved curriculum and/or school endorsed functions. No organizations are allowed to distribute materials of any nature on school property.

This policy in no way prohibits the distribution of literature/materials regarding curriculum-related student activities and school-related functions in the school setting to and through students.

ADVERTISING

No advertising of commercial products or services shall be permitted in school buildings or on school grounds or properties without the approval of the superintendent, or designee.

This policy does not prevent advertising in school publications which are published by school organizations, subject to administration control, nor the use of commercially-sponsored free teaching aids, if the content has been approved by the administration.

RELATIONS WITH OTHER POLITICAL AGENCIES

Cooperation with law enforcement agencies is essential for the protection of students, for the maintenance of a safe environment in this district's schools, and for the safeguard of all school property.

This district shall also cooperate with other state and local public agencies and those agencies responsibilities and duties that relate to the public school student.
